ARDMORE

STUDIOS

Ardmore House

Ardmore Studios is an 18 acre, multi-stage production campus, offering six soundproof stages, plus a further two stages at the adjacent Ardmore Film Factory. With over 90,000sqft of highly flexible, creative space available, Ardmore Studios is the perfect choice for productions of all size and genre.

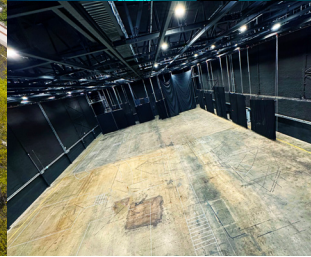

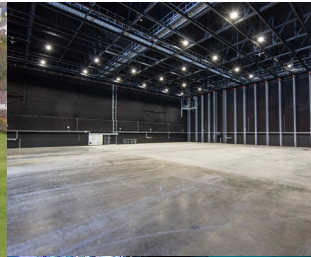

Our selection of studios, ranging from 3000sqft to over 23,000sqft, plus a wealth of ancillary facilities, including production offices, workshops and backlot areas, provides film makers with a huge choice of production spaces. Ardmore Studios is also home to Ireland's only underwater filming facility. The addition of world class onsite support, including extensive lighting facilities, makes us the ideal self-contained solution.

Located just 12miles/19km south of Dublin city in the coastal town of Bray, Co Wicklow, Dublin Airport, is just 30 minutes by car. Known as the 'garden of Ireland', Wicklow offers access to dozens of beautiful and historic film locations, all linked by an excellent transport network.

Filming from countryside to coast, or lakes to city centres, at Ardmore Studios no part of Ireland is ever far away.

FILM FACTORY

Ardmore Film Factory is a self-contained, 2 stage, production facility located just 5 minutes south of Ardmore Studios.

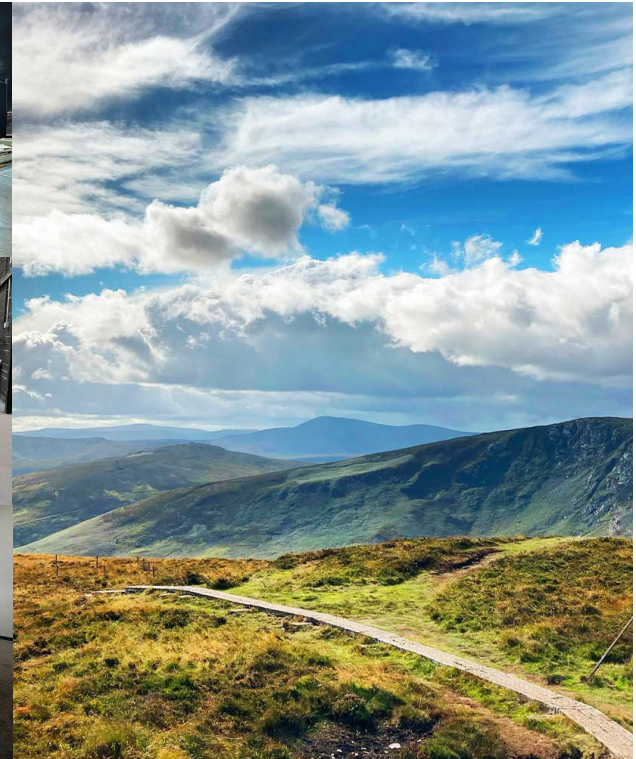

Ideal for both standalone use, or in conjunction with the main studio campus, Ardmore Film Factory offers clients over 30,000sqft of additional creative space, plus 11,000sqft of production offices.

Occupying a site of approximately 5.5 acres, the facility is directly adjacent to the Kilruddery Estate, which places it in a secluded, undisturbed location, backing onto green fields with quiet surroundings.
